

OLIVER™

Brenda Oliver is the President of Oliver Leadership Inc – an Emotional Intelligence & Leadership Development Practice – giving clients the competitive advantage to transform their Personal, Professional and Business Performance.

With more than 20 years of experience in strategic business development, sales planning, individual coaching & development, relationship management, consulting services and a successful professional career that has included a variety of senior management positions within financial services and the travel industry – a former Director with American Express - Brenda Oliver is a speaker, coach & consultant offering both inspirational and business insight to a variety of groups and venues.

With continuing research and developed expertise and accreditation in Emotional Intelligence & evaluation, she works with executives and groups to facilitate and offer perspective, structured process & professional development to migrate individuals and work groups to greater self awareness & personal growth.

As a speaker, she delivers her message on Emotional Intelligence with passion, inspiration and humor; sharing her life experiences, career challenges and success stories. She has clearly demonstrated her ability to develop, inspire and lead people - helping others to succeed and reach their greatest potential.

Her experience and enthusiasm enables individuals and organizations to capitalize on their human potential in the most effective manner, providing opportunities to speak internationally in Rome Italy at the Women's International Networking Conference and represent Canada as a delegate at the Global Women's Conference in Mexico City.

With published articles with Toastmasters International and The Human Resource Institute of Alberta, she blends business experience, research & Emotional Intelligence in her work and as a writer and has produced the Personal Leadership Reflections Series and the 52 Leadership Principles.

As Founder of DISTINCTIVE VOICES, DYNAMIC WOMEN at www.thecountry-club.com, she leads and directs this online Women's Global Mentoring Network (NETWORK MENTORING™). With over 2000 subscribers for the weekly personal leadership & inspirational message and 250 women registered as Mentors, the club facilitates the sharing of experience and expertise among its members. Ms. Oliver continues to travel extensively throughout the world expanding networks and visiting and experiencing many diverse cultures.

www.BrendaOliver.com

If you are looking for an exciting and entertaining personal growth and professional development keynote, workshop or seminar to enhance your training programs, meetings or conferences, please contact Oliver Leadership Inc and together, design a program that will be ideal for your organization. When experience & expertise embrace emotional intelligence then careers, businesses and relationships move to the next level of performance, satisfaction and success ...